Deemed Rates from 01 June 2026

General

The deemed rates are charged when there has never been a contract in place. A common example of this is when a new tenant moves into an existing site.

The rates that apply to deemed customers include:

- A daily standing charge (£/day) to cover third party distribution charges, metering costs and administration costs.
- A unit rate (pence/KWh) applied to each actual or estimated unit of gas supplied.
- A capacity charge is also payable by half-hourly electricity customers to cover third party distribution charges.

All prices quoted exclude VAT and CCL.

Our deemed rates are subject to change.

Supply of Natural Gas

Microbusiness Deemed Rates

The daily standing charge that we charge a microbusiness† for its gas supply while deemed will depend on the volume of gas that the business consumes each year. This consumption is known as the annual quantity (AQ) and is measured in kilowatt hours (kWh).

Please note that your AQ can change and we'll always use the most recent AQ to determine deemed rates. Please contact us to check your AQ should you wish.

The table below shows the rates for each band of micro business customer.

Band	Min AQ (kWh)	Max AQ (kWh)	Daily Standing Charge* (£/day)	Deemed Unit Rate (pence/kWh)

Supply of electricity

The deemed rate that is charged is based on the costs of supply including all applicable 3rd party costs, where relevant, excess capacity & reactive power charges will be included on the invoice at the prevailing rate.

The rate will depend on the customer type specified by the DNO.

Please contact us to check your customer type should you wish.
